

Origination Reports

The Origination Reports menu (Figure 1) provides lenders with access to HUD-generated reports. Lenders view only their own reports. Five categories of reports are provided:

- Escrow Closeout Report – tracks endorsed cases with funds held in escrow for repairs or improvements (includes 203k, Energy Efficient Mortgage (EEM), and repair escrow cases). Retrieve the most recent three months reports for the individual lender. Refer to the section, Escrow Closeout Report, for a detailed explanation and illustration of the capabilities of this function.
- Mortgagee Performance Report – current and historical monthly statistics generated by HUD on direct endorsement lenders' underwriting, appraisal, and closing performance. Refer to the section, Mortgagee Performance Report, for a detailed explanation and illustration of the capabilities of this function.
- Origination Reports – reports providing status information on various aspects of the FHA underwriting process. Refer to the section, Origination Reports Request and Retrieval (and its subsections), for a detailed explanation and illustration of the capabilities of these functions.

Pending Case Cancellation Report

The Case Cancellation Report Results page (Figure 2) is used by authorized lender personnel to retrieve the Pending Case Cancellation Report. This report provides a listing of the lender's non-endorsed cases scheduled for case cancellation due to inactivity. A case is listed on this report if no activity is recorded for six months following the last activity on the case. Exceptions to this include cases for which:

- an appraisal update was entered, and/or
- upfront mortgage insurance premium (UFMIP) was received

Last activity for a case includes:

- Case number assignment
- Appraisal logged/updated
- Firm commitment issued, expired, or returned to lender
- Firm commitment reconsideration decision entered, issued, rejected, or expired
- Case reinstated
- Closing package logged/resubmitted
- Insurance application submitted
- Notice of Return (NOR) issued/resubmitted

Note: Last action does not include updates to the borrower name(s) and/or the property address.

The Pending Case Cancellation Report:

- provides basic case information, e.g., case number, last action, borrower's name, property address, cancellation date
- is listed on the report in ascending order based on the 10-digit Originator ID, 10-digit Sponsor ID, and FHA case number, and
- is generated on the second Friday of each month

Once a case is listed on a lender's report, it is automatically canceled on the second Friday of the following month if no further qualifying activity is recorded, e.g., case is listed on the January, 2011 report and is canceled on Friday, February 11, 2011 if no subsequent qualifying activity is recorded. A case is not canceled if the lender performs an action that moves the case forward to endorsement (e.g., process Appraisal Logging or Insurance Application).

Retrieving a Pending Case Cancellation Report

To retrieve a Pending Case Cancellation Report:

1. After signing on to the FHA Connection, follow the menu path: Single Family FHA > Single Family Origination > Origination Reports > Case Cancellation Report Request.

Note: If a lender does not have cases scheduled for cancellation, then a report is not generated and Not Available is displayed for the corresponding month.

2. Each Pending Case Cancellations Report is available in two different file formats and can be accessed as described below:

Underwriter Activity

Underwriter Activity provides a report of underwriter reviews for active underwriters employed by direct endorsement lenders. This includes the lender's automated underwriting system (AUS), if applicable. Reviews are performed for post endorsement technical review cases and test (preclosing) cases. Several levels of review may be required.

For post endorsement technical review cases, the levels of review include:

- Initial Review
- Quality Control Review
- GTR/Supervisory Review
- Additional Review

For test (preclosing) cases, the levels of review include:

- Initial Review
- Reconsideration Review
- Supervisory Review

The report displays a summary of the last officially completed level of review. If only the initial level of review is completed, information is not displayed until the HOC specifies that all levels of review are completed for the case. Lenders have access to reviews of cases (loans) underwritten by their underwriters. Underwriters have access to their own reviews.

Conforming, Deficient, Unacceptable, and Mitigated review ratings are provided for the following underwriting categories for cases that began underwriter review on or after January 10, 2005:

- Valuation and underwriting documents (UV)
- Mortgage credit analysis (MC)

The review ratings are described as follows:

- Conforming: All FHA requirements for underwriting the case were met and no deficiencies were found.
- Deficient: Deficiencies exist but do not pose a risk to the FHA's insurance fund.
- Unacceptable: Deficiencies exist and pose a risk to the FHA's insurance fund.
- Mitigated: Deficiencies that caused an Unacceptable rating were mitigated.

Cases that began underwriter review before January 10, 2005 have ratings of Good, Fair, or Poor for each underwriting category. Also, the Underwriting Report containing the review details for these cases may include the following additional underwriting categories: closing package and architectural and engineering evaluation.
